NEW DEAN COMES TO TAKE CHARGE

REV. FATHER EUGENE E. REILLY OF LAKE GENEVA.

TO CONDUCT MASS SUNDAY

Archbishop Messamer Arrived in Milwaukee Yesterday Afternoon from Visit to Pope.

Rev. Father Eugene E. Reilly, formerly of Lake Geneva and now of Janesville, arrived here today to take charge of St. Patrick's parish as the successor of the late lamented Dean G. M. McGinnity. Owing to the recent death of Dean McGinnity, Dean Reilly took charge very quietly and will begin his active work by celebrating Mass tomorrow morning.

REV. FATHER EUGENE E. REILLY OF ST. PATRICK'S CHURCH

celebrating Mass tomorrow morning, as noted by Father James McGinnity.

The parishioners of Father Reilly at Lake Geneva tendered him a farewell banquet and reception at that place on last Wednesday evening.

Messamer Jack
Archbishop Messamer reached Milwaukee yesterday afternoon after having made a visit to Europe and having seen Pope Pius X. It is probable that some changes may be made in the diocese by the archbishop in the near future. Father James McGinnity may go to some other parish. He will, however, remain here for the time being and nothing definite is known as yet as to what changes the archbishop will make.

SECOND PRESENTATION OF PRETTY OPERATTA

"The Carnival of the Seasons" Was Witnessed by Another Large Audience Last Evening.

"The Carnival of the Seasons" was given a second presentation under the auspices of St. Mary's church last evening and another large audience gathered at the Myers Theatre. The work of the young people was more finished and perfect than at the previous performance and the entire entertainment reflected great credit on those who took part as well as upon Mrs. Jackson of Chicago, who directed the preparations.

CIRCUS HERE NEXT THURSDAY.

Keen Interest Manifested in Coming of the Ringling Bros.

The greatest circus day in the history of Janesville will come next Thursday with the arrival here of Ringling Brothers' World's Greatest Shows. So show ever enjoyed the popularity of the Ringling Brothers. They revolutionized the circus business and lifted the standard of the profession, introducing a policy of honest and businesslike dealings with the public which has been a strong factor in their success.

The people of this city and the surrounding country have much to look forward to. The report comes from other cities that never in its brilliant history has Ringling Brothers' circus presented such a splendid array of foreign talent, such magnificent parade equipment, so many strange animals or such beautiful horses. The performance is one of remarkable strength, gorgeous costumes, infinite variety, artistic in arrangement and fairly teeming with thrilling incidents.

There is more than a generous amount of comedy, the incidental music is charming, the seating arrangements are vastly more comfortable than are to be found with other shows and throughout the entire day the magic touch of the Ringling policy shows itself in ways highly gratifying to patrons.

The circus has been refitted with twelve acres of new waterproof canvas, 102 recently imported cages and dens, hundreds of golden band chairs, floats, vans and table cars of this parade and a complete rebuild of shops, lighting plants, hotels, offices and dressing rooms.

Tens of thousands of visitors are expected in the city on the day of the show and for the benefit of those who wish to avoid the crowds on the show grounds arrangements have been made to open a downtown branch ticket office at the People's Drug Store where reserved seats and admissions may be bought at regular ticket prices.

MOVEMENT IS SLOW BUT CONTINUOUS

Remnants of '07 Crop of Tobacco Are Being Picked Up—Choice Lots Sold.

Weather conditions continue very satisfactory for advancing the crop which is making rapid strides. The coming week will see a little topping of the most forward fields, while the general outlook everywhere is quite promising in this portion of the state. A buyer who made a 100-mile ride through the growing sections this week gives an excellent report of the crop.

The shipments out of storage reach 650 cases and two cars of bundles from this market to all points for the week. Twelve cars were received from outside points.

PLENTY OF ORDERS FOR LOCAL FIRMS

Factories Are Increasing Forces and Orders Are Coming In Regularly.

Manufacturing business is picking up. The outlook for the future for the local factories is excellent. Most of them have enough work to keep them running full time and some are rushed.

The Shurtliff Company have installed this week a new cream separator with a capacity of six hundred gallons. This was added to the equipment of the factory in order to be better able to handle the cream which they receive and to be able to see that it reaches the right conditions for churning. They are making considerable butter right along. Their record has been broken with a total of forty-five hundred pounds last Tuesday. This hot weather also is good for their trade in ice cream.

The Fairbank Trust Co. company have a plentiful amount of business, the orders coming in as fast as they can handle them.

The Janesville Barb Wire company have been increasing their working force but as yet are not working up to their capacity although they expect to in a short time. Their full force in the fence department is working but in the nail and wire departments they are not working as heavy. The work on their new building is coming right along, the foundation on the south side having been finished and the walls on the other side being put up as rapidly as possible.

The Wisconsin Carriage company have plenty of business to keep their full force working eight hours a day and expect to start up soon working ten hours.

The F. M. Muehlhoff company are working hard to keep up with their orders and are getting their line of sample goods for next summer's sales ready for their salesmen who will soon start out.

The Western Shoe Company are running all departments and intend to increase the business until the capacity of the factory is reached. Some men from St. Paul and Minneapolis are working at the factory on some of their special lines and more from Milwaukee come in a few days.

The Badger State Machine company report plenty of orders and a good business. The J. P. Cullen company have in force of plasterers at work in the hotel school house. At the plumbing mill they are working on the window frames for the Hotel building.

The Rock River Cotton company have enough orders to keep their force working.

The Strickler Hay Tool company also report plenty of orders to keep them busy.

The Rock River Machine company report plenty of a fair volume of orders coming in regularly and although they are not large they make a showing at the end of the month. Business is picking up all along the line.

CHAUTAUQUA TO OPEN TOMORROW

SEN. BURKETT OF NEBRASKA TO SPEAK TOMORROW.

GOOD PROGRAM THIS YEAR

Excellent Program Has Been Arranged for the Eight Days' Session.

Tomorrow morning the eight days' session of the Janesville Chautauqua will open at ten-thirty in the morning with church services conducted by H. G. Herbert with sacred music by Carter's Carolinians.

In the afternoon beginning at 2:15 the Carolinians will give a fifteen-minute concert, after which at 2:30

RONNEY'S BOYS' CONCERT CO.

Senator Burkett of Nebraska will speak upon "The Young Man and the New Woman." In the evening R. G. Herbert will speak again.

Arrangements
The arrangements for this year's chautauqua are better than ever before. The driveway from the road down to the grounds has been improved and is well lighted. Tents have also been provided in which people can wait for the cars. A union dock, at which all boats can land, has been built. There will also be an information tent, at which there will always be someone stationed and where there has been installed a Wisconsin telephone for the use of the chautauqua patrons. Extra tents have been obtained for those who wish to camp upon the grounds and the large dining tent will be in charge of Mrs. Peter Dulin of this city.

Program
The program offered this year is an unusually good one. Senator Burkett of Nebraska, Carter's Carolinians, Roney's Boys' Concert Co., Edgar M. Wright, and Wm. Sterling Bates are some of the drawing cards which have been obtained by the management this year.

In addition to the regular program there will be Bible study every morning at ten-thirty which will be conducted by E. M. Wright. On next Friday the Temple Lady Quartet will come and will conduct the musical part of the program for the rest of the session.

The entire program is interesting and instructive and deserves the patronage of the Janesville people, especially as the larger part of the proceeds is to go to the support of the Mercy Hospital.

The Monday program is as follows: 10:00 a. m. Child Work, Miss Woolley; 2:00 p. m. Prelude, Carter's Carolinians; 2:30 p. m. "The Unfinished Picture," Francis R. Woolley; 4:15 p. m. Prelude, Carter's Carolinians; 7:30 p. m. Prelude, Carter's Carolinians; 8:00 p. m. Roney's Boys' Concert Co.

PRINCE OF WALES BUSY AT QUEBEC

REVIEWS 23,000 FIGHTERS ON PLAINS OF ABRAHAM.

YANKEE TARS TAKE PART

Royal Visitor Then Transfers Battlefield to the Government and Attends a Grand
State Ball.

Quebec, Que., July 25.—The prince of Wales had another day of strenuous activity beginning Friday morning with a grand review of the troops, sailors and marines on the plains of Abraham, then officiating as the title deeds of this historic battlefield were turned over as a permanent memorial, between times attending gala luncheons and dinners, and finally at night mingling with the gay throngs of beautifully-dressed women at the state ball at the Parliament building.

The prince is bearing his part in these functions with all the dignity and good nature of his royal father, shifting his uniforms from admiral to field-marshal and then to plain and well-groomed English gentleman, and always awakening the enthusiastic cheers of the crowds whenever he appears.

Military and Naval Review.
The grand review of the military and naval forces was the spectacular feature of the day. The forces assembled on the plains far exceeded the armies of Wolfe and Montcalm, which fought for mastery of the same grounds, the aggregate numbering 23,000 while the spectators raised the assemblage to upwards of 50,000.

The 500 American sailors and marines from the New Hampshire showed to good advantage, their steady marching winning a full share of cheers. The prince rode on the field wearing the brilliant scarlet uniform of a field marshal, the helmet topped with red and white plumes and his breast crossed with the blue sash of the Order of the Garter. He galloped along the long extended front, the regimental colors trooping, the drums rolling and the bugles sounding the royal salute. Beside him rode Field Marshal Lord Roberts, or "Bobs," as the soldiers know him, sharing the ovation given the prince. After inspecting the men the prince and Lord Roberts took positions before the reviewing stand, while the columns defiled past for more than an hour. Vice-President Fairbanks and his military staff occupied seats on the reviewing stand.

Battlefield Given to Nation.
Following the review the prince formally transferred the battlefield to the government general as a lasting memorial. Heretofore it has been owned in parcels by private parties but the prince's dedication passes it over to the government. The state hall at the Parliament building was the chief social function during the prince's stay. The building was brilliantly illuminated within and without and a great throng filled the senate chamber, which temporarily served the purpose of a ballroom.

The American officers gave a dance in the afternoon on board the New Hampshire which was largely attended by officials and ladies.

Murderer Found a Suicide.
Louisville, Ky., July 25.—The body of Philip H. Huns, who shot and killed Arthur W. Kraft and badly wounded Mrs. Kraft, was found Friday lying near the highway, a mile from St. Matthews, a suburb. Huns had shot himself through the head.

Mrs. Stevenson's Condition Critical.
San Francisco, July 25.—It is reported that the condition of Mrs. Robert Louis Stevenson, who is ill at her home near Elmer, Cal., is regarded as serious by the attending physician. She was hit by a bullet in an automobile accident in Mexico.

French President at Stockholm.
Stockholm, July 25.—M. Fallieres, the president of France, who is on a series of official visits to European states, arrived here Friday and was given a hearty welcome by the king, the officials and the general public.

Planchetta Swindler a Fugitive.
Berlin, July 25.—The planchette swindler, Willis J. Richter, alias William E. Scott of Boston, who was arrested near Berlin last February charged with receiving large sums of money in the sale of planchettes by means of which he deceived people could hypnotize themselves and read their future, has jumped his bail of $25,000.

Bomb on a Hotel Roof.
Chicago, July 25.—To disprove the statement of the police that "there is no gambling in Chicago" bomb No. 19 in the gamblers' warfare was exploded Friday night on the roof of the National hotel, 28 Van Buren street. At least three gamblers, one of which was a woman, were interrupted temporarily.

Furious Storms at Pittsburgh.
Pittsburgh, Pa., July 25.—At least one life was lost and damage estimated at a quarter of a million of dollars or more resulted from a series of storms that swept over Pittsburgh and surrounding territory Friday afternoon and evening.

HUGHES WILL RUN AGAIN

TO ACCEPT RENOMINATION IF HIS PARTY SO WISHES.

Governor of New York Yields to Arguments of Friends—Will Speak in Ohio.

Saratoga Inn, N. Y., July 25.—Gov. Charles E. Hughes will accept a renomination if the Republican party of this state desires him to again be its candidate. In a statement made public Friday night the governor so declared himself and defined the reasons which he says are responsible for the action he has just taken.

The statement is intended as a reply to the many inquiries received by the governor regarding his attitude toward a renomination. He says the personal reasons which prompted him to say privately some time ago that he did not desire a renomination are not controlling and that "if renominated I ought to accept."

The governor declined to make any further comment for quotation, but made it clear that he regards the policies he has pursued since he assumed office on January 1, 1907, as a cause which should be continued. As he is sponsor for them, many of the governor's friends have expressed the opinion in letters to him that they can be carried out better if he is elected for another term.

That Gov. Hughes intends to take an active part in the coming national Republican campaign is evident from the fact that he has accepted an invitation to speak at Youngstown, O., on September 5, at which time the Republican campaign will be opened in that state.

BLOODY FRIDAY IN OMAHA.

One Murder, Three Suicides and Three Accidental Deaths.

Omaha, Neb., July 25.—Friday was a bloody day in and around Omaha, and one murder, three suicides and three accidental deaths resulted.

At Central City, Oliver Starkey shot and killed his divorced wife and himself. At South Omaha an unknown man appeared on the streets with a bullet wound through his head. He fell on the street and died. Olaf Slegers, an old man, fell from a South Omaha street car and was fatally injured. L. J. Krause, foreman of the Malt works, committed suicide because of a woman. Joe Higgins caught his foot in a frog on the Illinois Central belt line and was run down and killed. Near Kearney, George Roberts, a field hand, picked up a big rattlesnake while binding wheat. He was struck and will die, the physicians say.

SUSPENDED CADETS EXPLAIN.

Tell Secretary Wright How They Got Into Trouble.

Washington, July 25.—Secretary of War Wright Friday received a call from the eight young men, who, as cadets at the military academy at West Point, have been found guilty of lazing and sentenced to dismissal. Mr. Wright said he had not had time to examine the report which had been submitted to him.

After a few minutes' informal talk with the young men, Secretary Wright said: "Now, honest boys, tell me just what you did to get yourselves into this scrape."

Cadet Russell, an honor man of the first class and son of Lieut. William T. Russell of the engineer corps of the army, said perhaps he had been more to blame than any of the others but he felt that none had committed serious offenses. "Draining," Russell explained, was "an exaggerated form of bringing a plebe to attention." He said that all of them had been through such an experience which, far from being brutal or humiliating, tended to make the right sort of men of cadets.

Secretary Wright informed the young men he would give careful attention to the report and take their cases under advisement.

BURR OAK.

Burr Oak, July 25.—The Farmers are busy binding their grain.

Mr. Louis Hoague is the possessor of a new buggy.

The Victim of Drink

Needs Orrine Treatment

Drink first destroys ambition; breaks up ties of friendship; it kills and lowers love and eventually destroys the family life.

Some of the best men in the world have been victims of drink and if there is not some member in your family that is afflicted with this disease, you are indeed fortunate.

Drink cunningly destroys the will power, and with the drunkard wants to do what you tell him, he wants a thousand times more the drink that he craves.

Drunkness is no longer considered a crime; eminent scientists and physicians have agreed that it is a disease and must be treated as such.

The home treatment that has been used for a number of years, and is highly successful, is Orrine. It is sold under a positive guarantee that if it does not effect a cure your money will be refunded.

Orrine is in two forms. When desiring to give secretly, purchase Orrine No. 1, and if the patient will voluntarily take the treatment, Orrine No. 2 should be given. The guarantee is the same in either case. Orrine costs but $1 per box. Mailed in plain sealed wrapper on receipt of price. Write for free treatise on "Drunkness," mailed in sealed envelope by The Orrine Co., Washington, D. C., and in this city by People's Drug Co. and King's Pharmacy.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT

One cold Saturday night, in the early dawn a horse and cutter stopped in front of an old gray house on a cross-road halfway between the towns of Hugfoot and Allen, just across the state line in Illinois.

The little house was a parsonage and the home of a young Methodist preacher, known in early days as a circuit rider. He was serving his second year as a member of the Rock River conference, fresh from the farm, a zealous convert of the great revival of 1857, which swept over the country like a tidal wave.

The call to preach, which in those days was considered the first and principal requisite, had refused to listen to a negative answer, and so with limited education but great enthusiasm he took up a course of study and in due time became a full-fledged preacher, soon winning a reputation as an evangelist.

His night caller was the Rev. Mend, pastor of the Methodist church at Harvard, Illinois, where a new church building had been erected, and which was to be dedicated the next day by Rev. J. H. Vincent of Chicago, at that time a noted preacher, and later one of the leading bishops of the church.

Mr. Vincent was in great demand at church dedications, because heavy debts to be raised was a principal feature of the program, and the bond system of raising money easy, had not yet been discovered, so when Mr. Mend received a message from him at 7 o'clock on Saturday night that he was sick and unable to be present the following morning, he was not only surprised, but thoroughly demoralized.

After casting about for some way out of the dilemma, he thought of the young preacher out on Hugfoot Prairie, and hitching up his horse drove out to see him. But two hours of persuasion failed to make any impression on the young man and he was about to give up in despair when he said to him:

"See here, Brother Mend, what you wanted particularly of Dr. Vincent was to raise your debt. Now I will go down and do that work for you on one condition. Your people don't know Dr. Vincent. If you will let me on the pulpit tomorrow I will guarantee to raise the money."

But this plan looked too much like deception to Mr. Mend, and he said: "No, I couldn't be a party to it," and drove back home.

At five o'clock Sunday morning he was again at the country parsonage and the young man's offer was accepted. When 10:30 arrived and the bell stopped ringing, the new church at Harvard was packed to the doors. The pastor entered and took a seat near the front and a young man stood before them and took up the services.

His earnestness was impressive and before the revival sermon was fairly launched he had captured the audience. At the close he complimented the society on the new church, and asked for money to pay off the debt. In half an hour it was all pledged and then he said: "Dr. Vincent is ill in Chicago, as some of you know, but you have paid for your church without him, and have occasion to rejoice, and they did with hearty congratulations to the young man from the country, who had helped them out."

This little incident was characteristic of the life of George J. Vilas, who died suddenly at his home in Oak Park last Wednesday morning at the advanced age of 79 years.

He belonged to the class of men who never grow old, men whose hearts continue to beat with the same kind sympathy long after the enfeebled steps mark the encroachment of time.

The last 30 years of his life was spent in the town where he died, but the impress of his life will long be felt for good.

John Farson, his old neighbor, said of him: "He is the grand old man of Oak Park, the most lovable man I ever knew, not only a good man but always to be found on the right side of every question. He has not a single enemy, and the whole town thinks of him with great affection."

This is an eulogy to old age which comes as a fitting climax to a life which wears out, active and cheerful to the last. Such a life is an inspiration to men and women who are living in the shadow on borrowed time. It brightens the halo of old age and lends a new significance to a period of life noted for helplessness and inactivity.

It is a nice thing to be able to keep sweet while the years advance and time slips away at rapid pace. The boy at 20 regards his father at 50 as an old man, and the man at 50, in the prime of life, wonders if he will be as feeble at 70 as his neighbor, across the way.

Perpetual youth is only possible to men and women who keep active down to the verge of time. An old man of 82 called on a friend, the other night, and after chatting for an hour started off across the fields for a two-mile walk home. It didn't occur to him that he was old.

Some one recently expressed the following choice sentiment in regard to growing old. It is so true to life that it is worth reading and remembering:

A little more tired at close of day,
A little less anxious to have our way;
A little less ready to scold and blame,
A little more care for a brother's name;
And so we are nearing the journey's end,
Where time and eternity meet and blend.

A little less care for bonds and gold,
A little more zest in the days of old;
A broader view and a surer mind,
And a little more love for all mankind;
And so we are faring along the way
That leads to the gates of a better day.

A little more love for the friends of youth,
A little less zeal for established truth;
A little more charity in our veins,
A little less threat for the daily news;
And so we are folding our tents away,
And passing in silence at close of day.

A little more leisure to sit and dream,
A little more real the things unseen;
A little nearer to those ahead,
With visions of those long-loved and dead;
And so we are going where all must go,
To the place the living may never know.

A little more laughter, a few more tears,
And we shall have told our increasing years;
The book is closed, and the prayers are said,
And we are a part of the countless dead—
Thrice happy, if then some soul can say,
"I live because he has passed my way."

PRESS COMMENT.

Schmitz or Aylward.
Milwaukee Free Press: "The Flower of Badger Democracy" didn't come to fruit this time.

Despite Restrictive Laws.
Green Bay Gazette: Wisconsin's tobacco crop is growing rapidly. Wisconsin's crop of those who use the weed also seems to be enlarging.

In Neenah and Menasha.
Menasha Herald: The Oshkosh Northwestern says that "Mr. Cook is essentially the people's candidate." Right here it might be remarked "you bet he is."

Are Inalienable Rights.
Milwaukee Sentinel: "What is personal liberty?" asks the Louisville Post. Personal liberty is the right to eat pie with a knife and drink coffee out of a saucer.

Better Get Into the Singing.
Oshkosh Northwestern: Some one has dedicated a song to "Uncle Ike." Evidently these candidates for the senatorship are going to get a lot of fun out of the game, even if they can't all win.

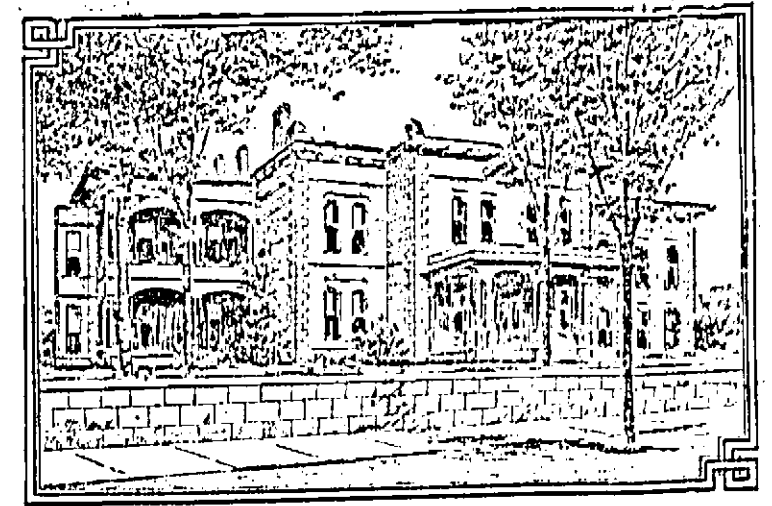

A Good Word For Madison.
Pond du Lac Bulletin: During the past year the people of Madison have subscribed $5,000 for the improvement of parks and drives. That is a spirit that the people of most any city might follow with profit.

Bob Isn't Saying.
Antigo Journal: Both McGovern and Hutton claim the support of La Follette. Stephenson believes he ought to have it and Cook knows he hasn't it, and La Follette, well—he is in good health and able to attend to all calls for lectures.

What Will Janesville Have?
Sheboygan Journal: Quince is 300 years old and has 75,000 population. Sheboygan is about fifty years old and has 25,000. When we're as old as Quince, at the same rate of growth, we'll have 450,000 people and be as big as Cleveland.

Standard Oil Decision.
Pond du Lac Bulletin: This only demonstrates the wisdom of enacting a law where the members of a corporation can be reached, and jail or prison sentences inflicted. Let John D. Rockefeller and men of his ilk face a penitentiary sentence for robbing and the first great step will be made in the direction of wiping out the damnable robbing system, which

COL. VILAS' CONDITION TAKES HOPEFUL TURN

Beautiful residence of Col. W. F. Vilas at Wisconsin Avenue and East Gilman street, overlooking Lake Menota.

Madison, Wis., July 25.—The condition of Col. William F. Vilas has taken a more hopeful turn and the symptoms would indicate that the patient is improving. Beef extract was given him today, which is the first nourishment he has taken since Sunday evening.

"There is some improvement," said Dr. Philip Fox this afternoon. "There is considerable evidence of occasional consciousness. The patient recognized my voice and made efforts to take my hand in response to a question. But we are loath to test his condition of sense the life out of the little fellow and allow the big corporation to wax fat."

Central Park is to be Desert.
St. Louis Globe-Democrat: New York complains that the soil of Central Park has become so impoverished as to be almost exhausted. A city that spends as much money as New York ought to be intensive farmer enough to save its parks from the fate of Sahara.

Dig Fuss; Still Occasion.
Madison Democrat: But really, if individuals may contribute to campaign funds, why not corporations? Let there be publicity to the full, but corporate money is every bit as good as any other. It is just as honestly and decently earned and may be just as legitimately accepted and expended whether in politics or for potatoes.

Sort of an Iceberg?
Oshkosh Northwestern: It seems that someone recently wrote to Mr. Hutton, senatorial candidate, asking whether he spells his name with an "e" or an "o," and in reply Mr. Hutton merely enclosed one of his cards on which the name was spelled "Hutton." Incidentally this reply was quite characteristic of the man—short and sweet, with an exchange of confidence neither offered or courted.

USE THE PLEA OF THE OLD SOLDIER

Cook's Campaign Managers Resort to Questionable Tactics to Secure Support For Their Candidate.

Several soldiers of the late rebellion have received copies of the following letter sent out in the interests of S. A. Cook in his candidacy for United States senator:

Dear Comrades: For many of us, this will be our last opportunity to assist in the nomination of an United States senator for Wisconsin. We have now the privilege of voting for a comrade who offered his life and shared with us the perils and hardships of a soldier, to preserve the Union and save our country.

He is a man in every respect worthy and capable, and one whose intelligent labors for the prosperity of the country and our state, and whose generous efforts in the welfare of his comrades have endeared him to the heart of every person who has taken note of his homely career.

Will you join us in giving our comrade 20,000 veteran soldiers' votes in the primary, as an evidence of our appreciation of him and of our loyalty to the spirit of '61 to '65.

Be promptly at the polls and check the name of Samuel A. Cook for senator.

Women even in the time of Papyrus took care of their complexions, as he tells down in his diary the fact that his wife and Jane went down to Woolwich to get the May dew, with which to wash their faces, and later tells of her rising at three o'clock in the morning to go forth for May dew while he lay troubled lest harm come to her a that early hour.

"To tell the truth, Dr. Richards," said the wife of one of our most prominent merchants, "I have neglected my teeth for years, since Dr. Richards of this city filled some teeth for me. He hurt me so dreadfully that I laughed and cried in almost hysterical when at last he let me out of that chair."

"Well," said Dr. Richards, "how was it this time?"

"You never hurt me one bit," said she and the Dr. had just finished filling a lot of her teeth with gold.

It is very pleasant to Dr. Richards to receive these kind words from bright, intelligent people who know when they receive good services and appreciate them.

The multitude of hearty endorsements given him in this city by people who had tried him and found his work really painless, makes him stand out clearly among his fellows as the man to go to for real painless dentistry in Janesville.

The people are also reasonable, which is not a bad feature for the one who pays the bill.

EARLY INCIDENTS OF NORTHWESTERN

AS TOLD BY THE LATE CHARLES HOLT, FORMERLY OF THIS CITY.

SOLD STOCK FOR $15

Stock was Almost Worthless in the early Days of the Old Valley Road in Fifties.

Charles Holt, the veteran editor who died in Kankakee, Ill., on July 22, was at one time one of the owners of the Gazette in the early fifties. He was 91 years old at the time of his death and had spent 78 years of his life in newspaper work. He was the owner of the Kankakee Gazette together with his son at the time of his death.

Among the papers on his father's desk his son, Arthur H. Holt, found the appended letter which he forwarded to the Gazette:

"The proposition to build a $20,000,000 depot in Chicago for the Northwestern railroad revives the memory of some early incidents in the history of the road which may interest some of your older residents and perhaps suggest some things of a similar nature in their experience. If you think so and are willing to give it room in your paper the following is at your service.

In the early days M. Chapin, the grain buyer, and myself, were owners and occupants of the front half of one of the blocks on Jackson street. Mike Cullen was the owner of a half front opposite our property and occupied a little cabin on it.

In the course of time Chapin and myself purchased Cullen's property when he desired to sell it, the object being to control the property. Later Judge David Noggle bought and occupied the Stricker property on the Cullen block, hence our property in order to control his land.

In those days the old Valley Road was undergoing its transformations, having been twice sold under mortgage foreclosures. Judge Noggle gave us as collateral security in his purchase of our property a $1,000 bond of the company which had been paid for by legal services by the company. Noggle's debt had been reduced to $300, and in a settlement he offered us this bond in liquidation of this debt. Chapin was unwilling to receive the bond and I traded a $50 Walton silver watch purchased by Noggle in New York "before the war." I paid Chapin $45 in money and accepted Noggle's watch instead of taking this bond. I still own, and it is yet a reliable timekeeper, with the recent change of an Elgin movement for the original Walton works. In those days I was a stockholder in the railroad, having become one in a reorganization of the road, the stock then acquired having been taken in payment of a printing and advertising debt. A peculiar movement followed the reorganization and the stock was sold at five cents on the dollar and upwards as the faith of the purchaser was strong in the prospects of the company. I was offered and accepted five cents on the dollar for my stock, but when I looked for the certificate it was among the missing. This offer, an explanation and promise to search for the certificate, was increased to ten cents. A search was again fruitless, and an offer of fifteen cents followed. This offer was an incentive to a search of every paper in my office safe, when I suddenly recollected of a loan of the certificate to secure a free ride to Chicago at an election of directors of the company, without any remembrance of the person who used the certificate.

I sent a request to the Gazette for a return of the certificate and there was a prompt response leaving it in my office desk with a personal explanation that it had been left forgotten in the safe of the borrower. The certificate was then sold for fifteen cents and I was no longer a blighted stockholder in a great monopoly.

Subsequently a business firm left here in debt to me $25, and in answer to a request for payment an inability to pay was stated and an offer of two shares of Northwestern stock in payment was made.

The offer was declined and an unsecured note taken upon which never a cent was received.

In the reorganization of the company fractional shares were issued for held one but matched pennies for it with Henry S. Sheldon, who had a similarly valued piece of property and lost the game.

EDITH BABBITT HAS NOT YET BEEN FOUND

Daughter of Former Congressman Clinton Babbitt of Beloit is Still Missing.

Advice from Indiana, where her brother, Arthur Babbitt, is searching for his sister, Edith Babbitt of Beloit, is to the effect that it is believed that Edith Campbell Babbitt is now in hiding at a farm house near Fairview Park, between Terre Haute and this place, on the Interurban line. Chief of Police Reed reported this morning that the wandering alum worker, who is being sought by her brother, left her satchel at a grocery near the Clinton hotel when informed of the approach of officers.

She stopped at Thomas' Wantland's home, near Chinn's ford, yesterday, for a meal and was given supper at George Woods', northwest of Terre Haute. Arthur Babbitt of Beloit, the girl's brother, offers a reward of her capture. In an advertisement in the local paper he says:

"A heartbroken mother and loving friends, brothers and sisters, desire to find Miss Edith Campbell Babbitt. Goes under assumed names. Is a gift, refined, cultured, well educated woman, about 31 years of age, but believed to be slightly deranged mentally."

LOYALTY. If you work for a man, in Heaven's name WORK FOR HIM. If he pays you wages that supply your bread and butter, work for him; speak well of him; stand by him and stand by the Institution he represents. If put to a pinch, AN OUNCE OF LOYALTY is worth a pound of cleverness. If you must vilify, condemn and eternally disparage, why, resign your position, and when you are outside, damn to your heart's content. But as long as you are a part of the Institution, and the first high wind that comes along you will be uprooted and blown away, and probably you will never know why.

CHAPTER XI.

SEVERAL weeks later Eddie Deever announced quite breathlessly to his father that he was going to visit Droom in his Wells street rooms. The two had found a joint affinity in Napoleon, although it became necessary for the law student to sit up late at night, neglecting other literature, in order to establish anything like an adequate acquaintance with the lamented Corsican.

Ricky was now morally certain that James Droomer was all that Harriet had painted. To his surprise, however, the man was not openly suspected by other members of the bar. He had been accepted as a man of power and ability. Certainly he was too clever to expose himself and too wary to leave loopholes for others engaged in that business. Ricky was debating the wisdom of going to Droomer with his accusations and the secret advice to leave the city before anything happened that might throw shame upon Graydon. The courage to do the thing alone was lacking.

Graydon was full of his happiness. He had asked Ricky to act as his "best man" in September, and Ricky had promised. On occasions when the two young men discussed the coming event with Jane and Miss Clegg, Ricky's preoccupied air was strangely in contrast with the animation of the others. Graydon accused his liver, and advised him to go to French Lick. Far from that, the old quarterback was gradually preparing himself to go to James Droomer. To himself he was saying as he put off the disagreeable task from day to day: "He'll kick me out of the office, and that's all the reward I'll get for my pains. Graydon will hit me in the end."

James Droomer had proposed a trip to Europe as a wedding journey, a present from himself, but Graydon declined. He would not take an extensive leave of absence from the office of Clegg, Croft & Davidson at this stage of his career.

The morning after his visit to the office of Elias Droom, Eddie Deever strolled into the office of Bobby Rigby. He looked as though he had spent a sleepless night. Mr. Rigby was out, but Miss Keating was "at home." She was scathingly polite to her delinquent admirer. Eddie's visits of late to the office had not been of a social character. He devoted much of his time to low-toned conversations with Rigby. Few were the occasions when he lounged affably upon her typewriting desk as of yore.

"You look as if you'd had a night of it," remarked Rigby. Eddie yawned obligingly. "Don't sit on my desk. Can't you see those letters?"

"See, you're getting lovely of late. I'll move the letters."

"No, you won't," she objected. "Besides, it doesn't look well. What if some one should come in suddenly?"

"Well, it wouldn't be the first time I got out suddenly, would it?" He retained his seat on the desk. "Say, where's Rigby?"

"You mean Mr. Rigby? He's out."

"See, you're also snippy. Well, give him my regards. So long."

He was unfastening his long legs preparatory to a descent from his perch. "Don't rush," she said quickly. He revolved his legs and yawned. "Goodness, you're not affected with insomnia, are you?"

"I've got it the worst way. I got awake at 4 o'clock this morning, and I couldn't go to sleep again to save my soul. It's an awful disease. Will Rigby be back soon?"

"It won't matter. He's engaged."

she snapped, cracking away at her machine.

"I've heard there was some prospect. She's a fine looking."

"Rubberneck!"

"Say, Rigby, I'm going to ask a girl to go to the theater with me," said Eddie complacently.

"Indeed! Well, ask her. I don't care."

"Tomorrow night. Will you go?"

"Who? Me?"

"Sure. I-I wouldn't take anybody else, you know."

"What theater?" she asked, with her rarest smile.

At that instant Rigby came in. Without a word Eddie popped up, a big red in the face, and followed the lawyer into the private room, closing the door.

behind him. Rigby's ears went very pink, and she pounded the keys so violently that the machine trembled on the verge of collapse.

"See, Mr. Rigby, that old Droom's a holy terror. He kept me there till after 1 o'clock. But I'm going back again soon some night. He's got an awful job. But that isn't what I wanted to see you about. I ran across May Roscoe, that chorus girl I was telling you about. Saw her downtown in a restaurant at 1 this morning. She wanted to buy the drinks and said she had more money than a rabbit. There was a gang with her. I got her to one side, and she said an uncle had just died and left her a fortune. She wouldn't say how much, but it must have been quite a bunch. I know all of her uncles. She's got three. They work out at Pullman, Mr. Rigby, and they couldn't leave 20 cents between them if they all died at once."

After hearing this Rigby decided to confront Droomer at once. It did not occur to him until later that the easiest and most effective way to drive Droomer from Chicago without scandal was through Elias Droom. When the thought came to him, however, he rejected it. The new plan was to save the needs of apprehension with Droom. Droomer would not be long in repeating his harvest of dismay. Ten apparently innocent words from Eddie Deever would open Droom's eyes to the dangers ahead.

Young Mr. Deever met with harsh disappointment when he came forth to renew his conversation with Rosie Keating. She was chatting at the telephone, her face wreathed in smiles. "Thank you," she was saying. "It will be so nice. I was afraid I had an engagement for tomorrow night, but I haven't. Everybody says it's a perfectly lovely play. I'm crazy to see it. What? About 7:30. It takes nearly half an hour down on the Clark street cable. Stoveast old thing over. All right, Goodbye." Then she hung up the receiver and turned upon Eddie, who stood behind her. "Oh, I thought you'd gone."

"Say, what was that you were saying over the phone? Didn't I ask you?"

"I'm going to the theater with Mr. Keating. Why?"

"Why? Why, you know I asked you to—"

"You didn't specify, Eddie, that's all. I'll go some other night with you. Goodbye." Chatterbox clock went the machine, throwing insult into his very face, as it were. He tramped out of the office in high dudgeon.

"Confound this detective business anyhow," he might have been heard to remark. Three nights later, however, he took Rosie to the play, and on the fourth night he was Droom's guest again in the rooms across the river. He was well prepared to begin the campaign of insinuation which was to affect Droomer in the end, sitting stiff and uncomfortable in the dingy living room overlooking Wells street, he watched with awe the master of the place at work on the flabbergasting tonies of a new "invention," the uses of which he did not offer to explain.

He was without a coat, and his shirt sleeves were rolled far above the elbows, displaying long, showy arms, hairy and not unlike those of the orang outang Eddie had seen in Lincoln park.

A WOMAN'S BACK.

The Aches and Pains Will Disappear of the Advice of This Janesville Citizen Is Followed.

A woman's back has many aches and pains. Most times 'tis the kidneys' fault. Backache is really kidney ache; That's why Doan's Kidney Pills cure it. Many Janesville women know this.

Read what one has to say about it. Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, of 58 Terrace St., Janesville, Wis., says: "I have been troubled with a very weak back, accompanied by a heavy bearing-down sensation in the loins. I did not understand my trouble at first and used a lot of remedies that did not help me, but since I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at the People's Drug Co., I have been rid of my old complaint, and it gives me pleasure to recommend such a reliable remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's and take no other.

to say that young Graydon Droomer is to marry—Miss Cable."

"Say, she's swell, isn't she?" said Eddie. The old man took him to his chair.

"She's very pretty. Mr. Graydon introduced me to her."

"Good," said Eddie could say. "They were crossing Wells street down below here on the way home from a nickel plate in the Indiana street."

"I saw her years ago, but she didn't remember me. I didn't expect it, however."

"I—how could she have forgotten you?"

"Oh, she'd have forgotten her mother at that age. She was but three months old. I don't think she liked me today. I'm not what you call a 'lad's' man," grinned Elias, pulling at his pipe as he looked up the columns on Napoleon. Eddie laughed politely, but uncomfortably.

"How old are you, Mr. Droom?"

"I'm as old as Methusalem."

"Aw, go away!"

"When he was a boy," laughed Elias, enjoying his quip immensely. "Miss Cable seems to be very fond of Graydon. That will last for a couple of years, and then she'll probably be like two-thirds of the rest of 'em. Other men will be paying attention to her and she looking for admiration everywhere. You'd be surprised to know how much of that is going on in Chicago. Women can't seem to be satisfied with one husband. They must have another one or two—usually somebody else's."

"You talk like a society man, Mr. Droom."

"Well, I've met a few society men—professionally. And women, too, for that matter. Look out for a sensational divorce case within the next few weeks. It's bound to come unless things change; a good deal. Terribly nasty affair."

"Is Mr. Droomer interested?" asked Eddie, holding tight to his chair.

"Oh, no. We don't go in for that sort of thing."

"I wonder if Mr. Droomer knows about the mistake that came near happening to him a week or two ago. I got hold of it through a boy that works in the United States marshal's office," said Eddie, cold as ice now that he was making the test. Droom turned upon him quickly.

To be continued.

Little Bobby.

Bobby was in love with the monkeys at the Zoo and often teased his father to buy him one. When a new baby brother came to the house and he saw it for the first time he was in raptures. "Never mind about getting me the monkey now, papa," he said.

A Square Deal

Is assured you when you buy Dr. Pierce's family medicine for all ailments entering into them are printed on the bottle-wrappers and their formulae are attested under oath as being complete and correct. You know just what you are paying for and that the ingredients are gathered from Nature's laboratory, being selected from the most valuable native medicinal roots found growing in our American forests and while potent to cure are perfectly harmless. Not a drop of alcohol enters into their composition. They are pure and free from all dangerous ingredients. This agent possesses intrinsic medicinal properties of its own, being a most valuable antiseptic and antiferment, nutritive and soothing demulcent.

Glycerine plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour eructations, heart-burn, foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, bloatedness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels. Besides curing all the above distressing ailments, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels or pelvic organs. Even in its ulcerative stages it will yield to this sovereign remedy if its use be persevered in. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal passages, it is well, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages freely two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures the worst cases.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchitis, throat and lung affections, except consumption in its advanced stages, the "Golden Medical Discovery" often cures more readily, especially in those obstinate, lingering coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the mucous membranes. The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, nor must it be expected to cure consumption in its advanced stages, nor will it do the best for all the obstinate, chronic coughs, which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption. It is the best medicine that can be taken.

BALDWIN EAGER FOR TEST

HE MAY TRY HIS NEW ARMY AIRSHIP ON AUGUST 1.

Novel Features of the Gas Bag and Framework of Machine He Has Devised.

Washington, July 25.—Eager to demonstrate the utility of his new airship, built for the army, Capt. Thomas S. Baldwin arrived here Friday. His machine has been placed in the balloon house at Fort Myer and was examined by Lieut. Lahn for the purpose of determining whether the requirements of the specifications have been carried out.

Capt. Baldwin will probably make his first flight on August 1. This will be a preliminary test, of which the aeroplanes will make a number before the official trials take place. W. H. Curtis, the aeroplanist and builder of the engine which Capt. Baldwin will use, will arrive here Monday with several mechanics, and the work of assembling the airship, setting up the gas plant and testing the various parts will then take about five days.

In building the gas bag, Capt. Baldwin has followed the theories advanced by Dr. Albert Zahn as to the shape. The blunt end is at the forward end of the ship, the propeller also being placed in front. This is distinctly a Baldwin idea and pulls the machine instead of pushing it. It throws a current of wind on the engine, thus adding in cooling it. The propeller is of wood, which has undergone a special process. The two blades are five feet long and it has a "chord" of 40 to 43 miles an hour.

The framework, which is very light, is Oregon spruce, supported by wire strips, which have withstood a cross weight of 90 pounds to the inch. The gas bag is vulcanized rubber, lined on both sides with silk, and has stood a test of 95 pounds to the inch width, 20 pounds more than the specifications require.

Control of the machine is one of the problems which Capt. Baldwin will have to contend with; in fact it is the only one that is giving him concern. Heretofore he has controlled the balance of the airship by shifting his position in the framework, but the contract will not permit him to do so with his new machine. The vertical movements of the ship will be largely controlled by several movable planes.

Killed in Bombay Riot.

Bombay, July 25.—The 20,000 mill hands who went out on strike started a riot Friday and a detachment of British infantry was called out to put down the disorder. It was found necessary to fire. One person was killed.

Child Burned to Death.

Chicago, July 25.—Mrs. Maria Rose of Lake bluff saw her three-year-old son burned to death Friday in a fire which destroyed her home.

THE HOTTEST NIGHT

With an electric fan you can sleep comfortably the hottest night in the summer. Turn on the fan in your bed room before retiring. Do not turn it directly towards the bed as you would then sleep in a direct draft. Set it near the window and turn it towards the door. This will give you a free, cool circulation of air all night and make your bed room comfortable in the hottest weather.

Meals will taste more palatable in hot weather if your dining room is cool, and an electric fan will cool it.
